Index

Index to Volume 17

17.1

EDITORIAL 2

NASEN/TES Academic Book Award 2001 3

ARTICLES

Peter Gray
Custodians of entitlement or agents of dependence? SEN support services in English LEAs in the context of greater delegation of funding to schools 5

Chris Beek
The distribution of resources to support inclusive learning 9

Alison Kahn
Monitoring provision for pupils with special educational needs in Norfolk LEA: evaluation of effectiveness 15

Felicity Fletcher-Campbell
The financing of special education: lessons from Europe 19

John Visser, Ted Cole and Harry Daniels
Inclusion for the difficult to include 23

Tina Everett and Colette Fulton
An exploration of secondary school teachers' beliefs and attitudes about adolescent children with chronic fatigue syndrome 27

Katy Dias and Lynne Juniper
Phono-Graphix - who needs additional literacy support? An outline of research in Bristol schools 34

Dee Peck
What's the problem? A guide to running a problem-solving workshop for parents/carers of children with language and communication difficulties 39

Changing Horizons: No. 4
Mark Vaughan
A consistent campaign 44

Notes on contributors 47

REVIEWS 48

17.2

EDITORIAL 50

ARTICLES

Suzanne Carrington and John Elkins
Bridging the gap between inclusive policy and inclusive culture in secondary schools 51

Alison Bishop and Phyllis Jones
Promoting inclusive practice in primary initial teacher training: influencing hearts as well as minds 58

Birgit Warzecha
Teaching and learning at the limit: institutional and social processes of disintegration with school age young people in Hamburg 64

Liz Browne
Listening to the student: a small-scale study of inclusive practice in a college of further education 70

Jenny Houssart
Count me out: task refusal in primary mathematics 75

Jane Bonshek
Postcode provision: a case study of provision for able socially deprived primary school pupils in Greater Manchester 80

Hilary Lowe
Excellence for all: able pupils in urban secondary schools 88

Changing Horizons: No. 5
David Fulton
Spreading the word: publishing special educational needs 95

Notes on contributors 97

REVIEWS 98

17.3

EDITORIAL 102

ARTICLES

Howard Taylor
The 'education system': a view from the inside 104

Ann Lewis
Accessing, through research interviews, the views of children with difficulties in learning 110

Kyriaki Messiou
Marginalisation in primary schools: listening to children's voices 117

Eve Bearne
A good listening to: Year 3 pupils talk about learning 122

Lisa Payne
Children's rights and child impact analysis: making children visible in government 128

Ianthe Maclagan
Making rights stick: Children's Rights Commissioner work in Oxfordshire 133

Hilary Cremin
Pupils resolving disputes: successful peer mediation schemes share their secrets 138

Belinda Hopkins
Restorative justice in schools 144

Notes on contributors 150

REVIEWS 151

17.4

EDITORIAL 154

ARTICLES

Derek Bell
Making science inclusive: providing effective learning opportunities for children with learning difficulties 156

Elaine Fisher
Science in a special school setting: strategies from Charlton School 162

Jill Bancroft
A methodology for developing science teaching materials for pupils with learning difficulties 168

Andrew Sutcliffe
Notes from a shared classroom: working as a subject-specialist support teacher 176

Brahm Norwich, Paul Cooper and Pam Maras
Attentional and activity difficulties: findings from a national study 182

Carol Miller
Learning from each other: practitioners in school-based support for children with language and communication needs 187

Judith Penrose Brown and Sonia Blandford
An examination of the range of children's experience of work 193

Notes on contributors 201

REVIEWS 202

Index for 2002 204

© NASEN 2002.

Index

Index to Volume 17

17.1

EDITORIAL 2

NASEN/TES Academic Book Award 2001 3

ARTICLES

Peter Gray
Custodians of entitlement or agents of dependence? SEN support services in English LEAs in the context of greater delegation of funding to schools 5

Chris Beek
The distribution of resources to support inclusive learning 9

Alison Kahn
Monitoring provision for pupils with special educational needs in Norfolk LEA: evaluation of effectiveness 15

Felicity Fletcher-Campbell
The financing of special education: lessons from Europe 19

John Visser, Ted Cole and Harry Daniels
Inclusion for the difficult to include 23

Tina Everett and Colette Fulton
An exploration of secondary school teachers' beliefs and attitudes about adolescent children with chronic fatigue syndrome 27

Katy Dias and Lynne Juniper
Phono-Graphix - who needs additional literacy support? An outline of research in Bristol schools 34

Dee Peck
What's the problem? A guide to running a problem-solving workshop for parents/carers of children with language and communication difficulties 39

Changing Horizons: No. 4
Mark Vaughan
A consistent campaign 44

Notes on contributors 47

REVIEWS 48

17.2

EDITORIAL 50

ARTICLES

Suzanne Carrington and John Elkins
Bridging the gap between inclusive policy and inclusive culture in secondary schools 51

Alison Bishop and Phyllis Jones
Promoting inclusive practice in primary initial teacher training: influencing hearts as well as minds 58

Birgit Warzecha
Teaching and learning at the limit: institutional and social processes of disintegration with school age young people in Hamburg 64

Liz Browne
Listening to the student: a small-scale study of inclusive practice in a college of further education 70

Jenny Houssart
Count me out: task refusal in primary mathematics 75

Jane Bonshek
Postcode provision: a case study of provision for able socially deprived primary school pupils in Greater Manchester 80

Hilary Lowe
Excellence for all: able pupils in urban secondary schools 88

Changing Horizons: No. 5
David Fulton
Spreading the word: publishing special educational needs 95

Notes on contributors 97

REVIEWS 98

17.3

EDITORIAL 102

ARTICLES

Howard Taylor
The 'education system': a view from the inside 104

Ann Lewis
Accessing, through research interviews, the views of children with difficulties in learning 110

Kyriaki Messiou
Marginalisation in primary schools: listening to children's voices 117

Eve Bearne
A good listening to: Year 3 pupils talk about learning 122

Lisa Payne
Children's rights and child impact analysis: making children visible in government 128

Ianthe Maclagan
Making rights stick: Children's Rights Commissioner work in Oxfordshire 133

Hilary Cremin
Pupils resolving disputes: successful peer mediation schemes share their secrets 138

Belinda Hopkins
Restorative justice in schools 144

Notes on contributors 150

REVIEWS 151

17.4

EDITORIAL 154

ARTICLES

Derek Bell
Making science inclusive: providing effective learning opportunities for children with learning difficulties 156

Elaine Fisher
Science in a special school setting: strategies from Charlton School 162

Jill Bancroft
A methodology for developing science teaching materials for pupils with learning difficulties 168

Andrew Sutcliffe
Notes from a shared classroom: working as a subject-specialist support teacher 176

Brahm Norwich, Paul Cooper and Pam Maras
Attentional and activity difficulties: findings from a national study 182

Carol Miller
Learning from each other: practitioners in school-based support for children with language and communication needs 187

Judith Penrose Brown and Sonia Blandford
An examination of the range of children's experience of work 193

Notes on contributors 201

REVIEWS 202

Index for 2002 204

© NASEN 2002.